

Annette Tomarken

B.A. Hons. and Ph.D. Bedford College, London University. Taught at the University of Leeds and at Birkbeck College, London, in the UK, then at New York University, the University of Cincinnati, and at Miami University of Ohio in the U.S.A. Worked for some years as the Oxford Campus Coordinator of Miami University's John E. Dolibois European Center in Luxembourg. Has published numerous articles on sixteenth-century poetry and satire, several translations, and also "The Smile of Truth" (Princeton U.P., 1990) on the Lucianic tradition in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in France. Together with Hugh Roberts of the University of Exeter, has just completed preparation of a critical edition of the works of Bruscombille, to be published by Champion.